BUTTE CURRENT NOTES.

L. T. Wunderlich of Divide is in the city.

No deaths have been reported in Butte for three days.

Owing to the absence of Mr. Caplice the county commissioners did not meet yesterday.

Thomas Matthews of the Silver Bow mine is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Road Commissioner Haggerty had a set of single harness and a bridle stolen from his stable yesterday.

Ulick Prince, lodge No. 334, Sons of St. George, will hold a social and concert at Centerville on Dec. 11.

W. M. Tuohy, general agent of the Northern Pacific, took a short run down to Anaconda yesterday.

Mrs. Grace McGinley is visiting in Anaconda this week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. McGinley of Oak street.

Henry Kearns was convicted in Judge Muldoon's court yesterday of disturbing the peace in South Butte and fined $10 and costs.

Marriage licenses were yesterday granted to O. N. Hingate and Jane Phillips; R. J. Curran and Florence A. Hamilton, all of Butte.

Fifteen bars of Blue Bird bullion of an estimated value of $23,856, were forwarded by the American Express company yesterday.

The cantata of "Little Red Riding-hood" will be given at the Congregational church on Thursday evening. There will be other musical and dramatic features of the programme. The proceeds are for the benefit of the church.

Chief Leyden will vary the usual routine of his duties as head of the police department at this morning by getting married after coming "off shift." The lady with whom he has selected is Miss Maggie Brall, endowed with many rare traits of mind and charms of person. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Leyden will leave on a short visit to Granite.

An old document was filed yesterday by Joseph Kossuth, head of the first party and Bartlett Brothers of the second party, whereby the latter secure a lease on the building 114 North Main street, and known as the Bee Hive store, for a term of five years from December, 1888, to December, 1893, at $310 per month.

THANKSGIVING DINNER.

What Some of the Enterprising Proprietors of Restaurants Are Doing.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—The best Thanksgiving dinner in the city will be served at the Acme restaurant, No. 7 East Granite street. It will be served from 5 to 8 p. m. It will be a family dinner, prepared by the best cooks in Butte and served in faultless style. Everything will be of the best.

The Acme presented a most animated scene at 11 o'clock to-night, when the tables were tastefully arranged and bountifully spread for the Emmet guard banquet in connection with their ball. The supper was pronounced the best of the kind ever served in Butte.

Stone in Heck.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—Several weeks ago William Stone, who was arrested for stealing ore, was released from jail on $250 bail. The bond was signed by Mrs. Williams, a boarding house keeper at Centerville, and John Caplice and Rod Leggett. For some reason or other Mrs. Williams then gave the other two bondsmen her note to secure them in case of Stone's disappearance, leaving her alone responsible for the amount of bail. She did not understand her position exactly until last night, but when she did see it clearly she fled herself to the sheriff's office and withdrew from Stone's bond. A deputy spent some time looking for Stone last night but did not find him, but this morning he was arrested at Mrs. Williams' boarding house in Centerville, where he has been stopping. He will now most likely have to remain in jail until the next term of court.

Charged With Horse Stealing.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—Sheriff Halford of Jefferson county arrived in town this evening from Virginia City with a man named Stevens in charge who was arrested at that place on the charge of horse stealing. The arrest was made at the instance of Benningham & Caplice of this city who accuse him of horse stealing. The fact seems to be that Stevens drove a team out of Jefferson county on which there is a mortgage. He will be taken to Boulder to-morrow.

Sheriff Brown of Madison county also stopped in the city over night. He has a crazy man in charge whom he is taking to the asylum.

It Was Loaded.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—Mike King, who lives in a cabin near Dublin gulch and works in the Syndicate mine, did not know his pistol was loaded this morning until he pulled the trigger. He was rather surprised when he heard an explosion and a bullet struck him about six inches above the ankle. King will be laid up with a lame leg for a few weeks.

Fire at Meaderville.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—Fire broke out at 3 o'clock this morning in the Eureka restaurant at Meaderville. The restaurant and its contents were totally destroyed. The fire was prevented from spreading to other buildings. The restaurant was conducted by Mrs. Rutledge. The loss was $1,500, with $1,000 insurance on the building.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Kelly, Deeney and Hickey Arraigned Before the Judge.

WILLIAM BEVANS SENTENCED

He Gets Three Years in the Penitentiary for Burglary—The Appellate Case of Siegel—Other Notes.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—When Department II of the district court was called to order this morning, Judge Pemberton asked whether the accused in the Penrose murder case was ready for arraignment, and was answered in the affirmative by the attorneys. County Attorney Baldwin then asked William E. Deeney, Paul J. Hickey and Eugene E. Kelley to stand up, which they did, and in answer to the usual questions as to their true names each made a correction by adding the initial for their middle names, which had been omitted from the information. Mr. Baldwin then started to read the information, but Attorney Campbell for the defendants interrupted him and waived the reading. He then asked for the statutory time in which to plead, and there being no objections to it the court granted the usual time. Owing to the holiday on Thursday, the defendants will not plead until Friday morning. The men and their attorney then left the court room.

Bevans Sentenced.

William Bevans, the man convicted of being a party to the burglary of a saloon on East Park street, was brought into court this morning to receive sentence. His attorney, Judge Keithley, made a plea for clemency and presented a certificate from a oculist who had made an examination of Bevans' eyes. The certificate set forth that one eye is blind and the other nearly so. A petition signed by some of the jurors who convicted him also shown the judge and asked for a light sentence owing to the prisoner's unfortunate condition. Bevans was asked if he had anything to say, and replied that he had never committed burglary in his life and had been led into the present crime by the other fellow. He did not know he had committed a crime until he was arrested. Judge Pemberton said he was not, as a general rule, an advocate of severe punishment, but the crime of burglary is one of the most serious on the statute, and being such a prevalence of it around Butte that the court had to recognize its duty to the people. Owing to the man's affliction and the circumstances of the case, the court decided to fix the punishment at three years hard labor in the penitentiary, which is the same sentence passed on Ryan, Bevans' partner in the crime, who had pleaded guilty to the charge. Bevans will eat his Thanksgiving dinner at Deer Lodge.

Other Cases in Department II.

The appeal case of the city against I. Siegel was tried in this department this morning. Siegel was arrested about two months ago on the charge of violating the pawnbrokers' ordinance by receiving goods in pawn before 7 o'clock in the morning. He was convicted in the police court and took an appeal. The case was tried this morning to a jury of six. Officers Wilson, Scott and Campbell were the witnesses for the prosecution and testified that at about 5 o'clock one morning in September they saw two men go into Siegel's pawn shop. The officers followed and saw an overcoat on the counter and the clerk and some figuring, and concluded that the garment was put in pawn. Siegel's clerk testified that the men woke him up and wanted to redeem the coat, which had been in pawn for some time, but he refused to give it to them because it was contrary to law to do business before 7 o'clock. The two men who wanted the coat testified to the same thing. The owner of the coat, who goes by the name of "Jumbo," said he had been a winner at faro that night, and thought it a good time to get his winter garment out of his uncle's clutches. Attorney Booth, in his argument, claimed that it was proven that the coat was not put in pawn that morning, but Attorney Cotter held that circumstances showed that it was, or the defendant would have produced his books to show when it was put in pawn. The jury took this latter view of the case and found Siegel guilty as charged, leaving the fine to be fixed by the court. Sentence was suspended for 10 days, to give the defendant time to file a motion for a new trial. This was the first prosecution under the pawnbrokers' ordinance, and is considered an important victory for the city. The penalty is a fine at any amount under $100.

In the case of the state against F. Targem, who is charged with committing a misdemeanor, County Attorney Baldwin stated that he had inquired into the evidence and talked with the witnesses and had concluded that there was not sufficient evidence to sustain the charge. He moved that the case be dismissed and an order was made by the court accordingly.

On motion of the city attorney an appeal case of the city against Whately was put off until next Saturday and will then be tried to the court on certain points of law.

Department II adjourned at noon until to-morrow morning.

Department I.

Judge McHatten this morning rendered a decision in the case of the city against the county, and rendered judgment in favor of the former for $404.21 and $7.50 costs. The case was one in which the county refused to pay the city sewer tax, basing its position on its statutory exemption from taxation. The city, on the other hand, claimed that it was not in the nature of a tax but a sanitary measure of which each individual or corporation benefited must pay its share. The case was submitted on an agreed statement of fact and the court decided, as above stated, in favor of the city.

In the matter of the estate of Abraham Goldsoll, deceased, Henry Jones filed a petition for letters of administration, with the will annexed, and the court set Saturday, Dec. 5, as the day for hearing the application. An authenticated copy of the will was also filed in the probate court of Culahago county, Ohio, where Goldsoll died.

The only case set for trial to-day was that of Ellingwood & Rauer against Joseph La Chapelle et al., and when it was called the parties were not ready and the order was vacated and the case continued.

Demurrers in the following cases were continued for hearing until Nov. 28: Charles V. Gould et al. vs. A. W. Miners; H. Harrison vs. D. Warren et al.; Miners' Lumber company vs. William Cassidy et al.; Montana Lumber and Produce company vs. Henry Albertson et al.; John Maguire.

Other cases were disposed of as follows: James W. Forb's et al. vs. Samuel Ayotte et al. and John McQueney vs. Samuel Ayotte et al.; by agreement demurrers overruled and defendant granted 10 days to file answer.

J. H. Conrad vs. Horace F. Brown; de-murrer overruled and defendant granted 20 days to file answer. Lavell Brothers vs. Jell & McLean, whose first names are unknown; cause ordered on calendar and the default of defendants entered. The new case commenced in the district court to-day was an action for debt by J. E. O'penheimer against R. E. Findly. A writ of attachment was issued in the case.

To-morrow the suit for damages of Thomas O'Donnell against the Hecla Mining company will be called for trial in Judge McHatten's court.

FOOTPADS IN THE CITY.

Two Men Who Robbed an Old Man in Park Street.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—The "long and short man" who terrorized the city last winter and spring have not been heard from for some time, but the business they did was so large and the success so uniform that others have been induced to enter the field. Quite a number of highway robberies have taken place in the city recently and everything goes to show that different parties were the perpetrators, leading to the belief that a gang of footpads are making their headquarters in Butte. Two of the fellows, at least, are who they will be harmless for some time, and the prospects are bright that they will enjoy a season of accusation at Deer Lodge as a result of their night's work. Last night an old man, whose name nobody appears to know, was in the saloon in basement at the corner of Main and Park streets. A couple of men were seen in the act of picking his pockets, and the bartender ordered them out. The fellows left, and under some pretext induced the old gentleman to accompany them and walked west on Park street as far as Academy. As soon as they turned the corner of the latter street the two knocked the old man down and then rifled his pockets and abused him shamefully, dragging him all over the sidewalk besides beating and kicking him. A couple of men, named Lander and O'Brien, happened to be passing along on the opposite side of the street and witnessed the whole affair. They kept quiet and when the robbers left their victim, Lander and O'Brien followed them until they entered the Combination gambling house and then notified Officers Werner and Gabert, who went into the saloon and arrested the footpads. The fellows were searched and a few dollars were found in their possession. The road agents gave their names as James Carroll and Harry Nelson and were locked up on a charge of highway robbery. Lander and O'Brien say that they knew the man who was robbed, but do not know his name. Up until this evening he had not yet reported the matter to the police and the authorities are very anxious to see him, as they are particularly desirous of sending Carroll and Nelson where they belong.

A WHEEL IN HIS HEAD.

John O'terson Think He Is Jay Gould—He Will Rest at Warm Springs.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—John O'terson, the latest case of insanity, had his examination before Judge McHatten this morning, and a jury consisting of Dr. Tremblay, Alexander Laist and Nick Trojanovitch, Alex Scott, the officer who arrested O'terson, and Jailer Griffith testified as to the man's undoubted insanity. He is too funny by far and could see a joke in a funeral and something to laugh at in death. But the most certain indication of his insanity was his belief that he is Jay Gould. He claimed to be the Wall street wizard in horrible disguise, and if he found that his audacity was inclined to doubt his credibility, he was willing to own up that he is not Jay Gould, but Vandrbilt, and owner of all the railroad and steamship lines in the world. Another undoubted evidence of his insanity was his claim to have solved the mystery of alchemy. He said that the difficulty is original and cheap. For $5 a day he was ready to eat all the smoke in Butte, and purify the water by a similar interesting process. O'terson is really the funniest man that has been in jail for a long while and it is almost regretted that the jury considered that the asylum at Warm Springs has more room in which he can give vent to his rambles than the county jail. They also considered him dangerous to be at large and he will probably be transferred to-morrow.

Williams, the other insane man in jail, had his case put off owing to the fact that the witnesses who are familiar with his peculiarities do not live in the city and have not yet been subpoenaed.

Lutheran Conference.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—The Lutheran conference of Montana is at present convening in this city. Clergymen have been arriving to-day from all parts of the state. The conference will be really opened by a service to be held at 7:30 o'clock to-morrow evening at the Lutheran church on West Silver street, near Dakota. Rev. H. Eggers of Great Falls will officiate. On Thursday evening a Thanksgiving service will be held at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Three clergymen of the Scandinavian Lutheran church also arrived to-day. They are Rt. Rev. B. Harstad, of Tacoma; Rev. N. Hoo of Helena; and Rev. T. D. Yviesaker of Great Falls. These gentlemen are also present to attend the conference. A meeting will be held to-morrow evening at the Scandinavian church, corner of Alaska and Copper streets. Bishop Harstad is much interested in the contemplated Scandinavian university at Tacoma. The university will cost about $100,000, and will be for the entire Northwest. The bishop is president of the Pacific coast district.

Bonded the Kirby Mine.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—A Pittsburg company has bonded the Kirby mine, in the Lowland district, for $25,000. The property is owned by Charles Nichols, Jake Graff and Henry Woldenberger. Three years ago, the mine was bonded to the Anaconda company and a shaft sunk 300 feet and a tunnel 1,000 feet. Subsequently work on the mine was abandoned, but assays from a recent strike run 3,655 ounces in silver and 375 ounces in gold. The bonding capitalists are expected in the city in a few days. New and expensive machinery will be ordered.

A HEAVY HITTER.

Woman Against Woman and One Arraigned Before Judge McMurphy.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—Maria B. Wolf, a woman of unusual large physique, and manner strongly suggestive of masculinity, was tried before Judge McMurphy this afternoon on two charges of assault and battery, one preferred by Dora E. Bouse and the other by J. V. Skidmore, father of the complainant in the first case. From the testimony for the prosecution in both cases it was made to appear that the defendant had first assaulted Skidmore by striking him and then pulling his ear, her wrath being aroused by a failure on his part to pay her some money. She left him and went into the house where his daughter was and knocked her down and landed several times straight from the shoulders in Mrs. Bouse's face. This assault was witnessed by a colored man and woman who looked into the door and saw Mrs. Bouse down and Mrs. Wolf standing over her and striking her. When the defendant took the stand she admitted that she had "playfully" pulled Skidmore's ear, but only "playfully," and that when she left him to enter his daughter's house, she and he were on the friendliest terms. She then denied having struck Mrs. Bouse, but had merely pushed her away, and it was herself instead of the other woman who was knocked down. As Mrs. Bouse is a very small woman and Mrs. Wolf almost a giantess, that part of her testimony caused the crowd of spectators to roar, and even the court himself had difficulty in maintaining a sober face. It was shown that after having received the trouncing, and when Mrs. Wolf had left the house, Mrs. Bouse secured a revolver, but made no attempt to use it. The colored man, who appeared as witness for the prosecution, gave it as his unqualified opinion that Mrs. Bouse was "fluffing," for when Mrs. Wolf saw the weapon she started to go back, whereupon Mr. Bouse retreated into the house and slammed the door. The defendant was fined $10 and costs in each case and gave notice of appeal in both.

It Was a Flopping Success.

BUTTE, Nov. 24.—The Emmet guards has become justly celebrated for the splendor and popularity of its dances, but to-night its ball at Miners' Union hall surpassed all previous efforts. The hall was most attractively decorated, and was crowded with merry dancers. Everybody had a good time, and everybody wished that the Emmet guard would give a ball every week. Van Orton's orchestra furnished the music. Supper was served at the Acme restaurant.
